I. Proposed Research Title

The title of Research Proposal should reflect clearly the area of the research which is to be embarked on. A title must be precise and concise. (Maximum 20 words)

II. The Problem Statement or Hypothesis

The problems involved in the research must be clearly defined and described in order to help in presenting the rationale of the entire study. (Maximum 100 words)

III. Objectives of the Research Proposal

The research objective(s) is crucial to ensure the importance and significance of research and to demonstrate clearly the essential nature of research.

IV. Literature Review

Write a critical summary and an assessment of the current state of knowledge or current state of the art in the intended area of investigation. This part of the proposal shall contain an analysis of other associated research works or studies pertinent to the proposed research area. (Maximum 500 words)

V. Proposed Research Methodology

This will require an understanding of alternative research methods known and the approach to be adopted in this particular study. Your description may consist of an outline of research techniques and/or procedures.

VI. Expected Research/Project Outcome or Contribution of the same

This would involve a discussion on the expected research findings based on existing literature and information in the area.

VII. Expected Work Schedule/Timeline

The schedule or timeline for completion of proposed research should be stated clearly to enable a clear understanding of the allocation of resource to be made. Continue on a separate sheet if necessary.

VIII. Selected References

List a representative sample (not more than 10) of the primary references used in this proposal. Any referencing system used must be consistent and contain names of authors, books, and journals. The volume, issue and page numbers with the publication year must also be listed. Continue on a separate sheet if necessary.
